GOVERNOR WILL VETO INCREASES IN STATE BUDGET

Declares He Will Stand By His Promise To The People of California and Keep the Budget Low.

Sacramento, Apr. 28—All raises which have been voted to the budget will be vetoed when they reach my office the governor stated in an open defy to the State legislature.

Declaring that "I propose to redeem my pledges regardless of any political consequences," the governor asserted that he will restore the budget to its original form when it reaches him.

Governor Richardson also served notice that recurrent appropriations, if put in the budget bill, would become subject to veto.

The executive statement follows:

Governor Richardson today announced that the raises in the budget bill put there by reactionary spendthrifts would be vetoed and the budget kept within the $79,000,000 limit. The governor also stated that recurrent appropriations, if put into the budget bill, would become subject to veto and that he positively would veto some of them and might cut others.

The budget contains all the recurrent statutory and legislational appropriations and totals seventy-nine million dollars. The budget bill does not contain these recurrent appropriations because it was unnecessary, unwise and unsafe to put them in. If the budget bill had included these appropriations the Pharisees who are leading the fight against economy would undoubtedly have made a tremendous attack upon me and claimed that it was a scheme to get those recurrent appropriations into the budget bill so I could veto or cut them down.

The attempt to confuse the budget with the budget bill has entirely failed The raises in the budget bill put there by the spendthrifts will be vetoed and the budget kept within the seventy-nine million dollar mark, and I will also veto certain recurrent appropriations if they are placed in the budget.

I promise to do my duty by the people and redeem my pledges regardless of any political consequences or the pork-barrel interests of any particular community.

HISTORIAN AND WRITER VISITS SONOMA MONDAY

Miss Honoria Toumey, authority on California history and who at the present time is engaged in historical research work and in writing for magazines, was in Sonoma Monday. Miss Toumey came down from her home at Bodego upon request of members of the Mission Centennial committee who value her cooperation in furnishing data and authentic facts which will be woven into the coming Mission Play. Miss Toumey is deeply interested in the Centennial and has promised to aid it in every way, believing that this is the proper setting for Sonoma County's historical pagentry this year. She has been appointed an honorary member of the Historical Research committee of the celebration.

WILL ISSUE MISSION CENTENNIAL NUMBER

The Sonoma Index-Tribune, pioneer newspaper of Sonoma county, having been established here in 1852, under the name of the Sonoma Bulletin, will issue a Mission Centennial number in June. This paper will be a large, fine edition, handsomely illustrated and will contain reading matter which will make it a valuable souvenir and keepsake.

Known as the Index-Tribune for almost 50 years, the Sonoma weekly is already widely read and with a circulation of 3000 copies planned for the souvenir number, will do much to advertise Sonoma Valley of 1923 and its conceded future.

Frank Muller, of Muller & Downey, who has been connected with several San Francisco publications in the past and who is taking a much needed rest from his own business on his doctor's orders, will be associated with the Index-Tribune in getting out the Mission Centennial number.

MRS. L. V. EMPARAN IS WELCOMED HOME

Mrs. L. V. Emparan has returned home from a visit of three months in Oakland and San Francisco. She was one of the most sought after women in California while away and was the guest of honor at many delightful club affairs on both sides of the bay. Her gracious presence, charm of manner and interesting remenescences of her father, the late General M. G. Vallejo, made her the center of attraction wherever she went.

Needless to say, Mrs. Emparan enthused her admirers with her descriptive of Sonoma, its romantic past and promising future.

Captain and Mrs. Burgess returned to the Springs after a motor trip to San Francisco in time for the May Day carnival. The Captain and his wife own a rose covered home Boyes where they spend much of their time.

Garnet Holme, Writer of Out-Door Plays, Comes Tomorrow

The noted writer and producer of California out-of-door plays, Garnett Holme, formerly of the University of California, will arrive tomorrow to start work on the Sonoma Mission Play which will be a feature of the 100th anniversary of tthe Mission's founding and will be enacted on the very ground where the cross was planted by the Mission padres in 1823. Holme's play weaves actual historical episodes into a wonderful drama, pulsating with romanticism and colorful stirring life of a century ago. The conversion of the Indian, the dances of the pagan tribes, the Mexican official life, centering around mission and pueblo will be brought into the play. Night productions of the richly costumed drama will be accompanied by special lighting effects. Seats in ampitheatre style will afford vantage points for witnessing this splendid pro duction by which Sonoma will honor its proud place in the history of our Golden State.

Garnet Holme who has been employed to write and stage the play has just created a furore in Southern California with his desert drama of "Ramona" Of this production of Mr. Holme, the Los Angeles Examiner said in its issue of April 14th—"The town of Hemet, a diminuitive in a vast setting, has given to the world something genuinely great—the Ramona play. They call it the Out-door Pageant Play Ramona, but it is tremendous drama with such a stage for action as has never been used before. The play is presented under the superb direction of Garnet Holme."

The Mission play will be followed by the Spanish ball in which belles and beaux of many countries will participate. The ball is to be held on a historic Sonoma street where a great dancing surface is to be erected, where many years ago the Mexican officers and their senoritas strolled on summer evenings under the watchful eyes of charming duennas. The dance music will be characteristic of the period and the orchestra will be one of the largest and best to be had.

Sunday, July 1st at the old Mission church, Archbishop Hanna will come to hold Mass and will be assisted by many clergymen of the bay district and a San Francisco choir of male voices from one of the noted parishes of that city. This impressive spectacle will be further added to by the presence of members of the Franciscan order in their robes and sandled feet.

Monday and Tuesday will see a repetition of the Mission Play and also events typical of California history which are to be put on by various Chambers of Commerce and communities of Northern California, including Sacramento. The towns and cities of Sonoma County will arrange features, H. W. Kerrigan of Petaluma having been asked to head the county participation committee.

The closing day of the fete will be the Fourth of July which will be the occasion of a fine program. Congress man Clarence Lea has been invited to speak. The American Legion Posts and Auxiliaries of the county and Native Sons and Daughters of California will be special guests of honor.

Open air dancing, a carnival, wild west stunts and a barbecue will be every day attractions.

The Mission will be open continually for inspection and will house a splendid collection of relics during the fiesta, including a display of beautiful old shawls which are the proud possessions of many families whose ancestors were prominent in Sonoma's history. On the committee is Lulu Vallejo Emparan, daughter of General Vallejo, who was head of the Mexican military headquarters in Sonoma from 1835 to 1846.

Already Sonoma is entering into the spirit of the days of the dons. Prominent club women, High School students, Native Daughters and the men folks are all enthusing. Costumes are already being worn on the streets and a whiskerino club is the talk of the men folks.

The Sonoma Parlor of Native Daughters Tuesday evening greeted their grand president, Mattie B. Stein in costumes and asked her to broadcast the centennial to all Native Daughters in the State.

The Bridge Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Burlingame and here too, old fashioned gowns and Spanish costumes were in evidence. Photos were taken of the ladies by L. F. Lambert under the direction of Director J. N. Reid. Miss Pemberton in her mother's (Mrs. Shaw's) wedding gown of 60 years ago, Mrs. Will Clewe in a rich old blue silk of years past and quaint bonnet; Mrs. Simmons in black lace, Mrs. Henry Bates in black lace and satin, Mrs. Hays in mantilla and real senora costume, Mrs Ralph Hotz, Mrs. Dick Watt, Mrs. Pauli in Spanish costume and Mrs. Wicker, Gottenberg and G. H. Hotz in old fashioned prints, reflected the spirit that is every where embracing the community as it prepares for the Mission Centennial days.

May Day Carnival Was Grand Success

The second annual May Day carnival at Boyes Springs, given this year for the benefit of the fire department was a grand success and besides being a financial benefit to the fire department, was a decided testimonial to Chief W. B. Cause of the department. The people of Sonoma Valley and the surrounding county responded in a splendid fashion and the fire captains of the various districts, particularly Captain Louis Martin of Vineburg, rendered valuable and substantial assistance to the Chief in making the benefit the success it was.

The fine banquet given by Messrs. Borando and Cook, of Borando's restaurant, to the Chief and men of the fire department, ushered in the carnival. Those present were Chief Cause, Messrs. F. W. Steurmer, Blomgren, C. Perkins, Schmidt, Wagner, Filippini, Mayor Minges, Miss Alice Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Murphy.

Saturday morning Queen Albina, clad in her beautiful robes of white satin with cape of crimson trimmed in ermine, was formally proclaimed ruler of the carnival. Her crown was placed upon her head by Miss Claire Farrell, queen of 1922. Queen Albina proved a beautiful and gracious ruler and her attendants, Miss O'Donnell in a white silk gown made in pannier style and Mrs. M. Peterson in pale pink were charming and graceful attendants.

J. N. Reid, the general director of the Sonoma Mission centennial, opened the carnival at Boyes with a well chosen speech in the presence of a large crowd, in which Sonoma folks dressed in costumes of the centennial period were conspicuous.

Following the crowning of the Queen, the parade, led by the excellent Patriarch's Militant Band of Petaluma and participated in by the royal party, escorts, decorated automobiles and the fire engines, came to Sonoma via El Verano and were cheered all along the line of march.

Saturday night Boyes Springs theatre was thronged with 650 people, the Queen's ball being the chief attraction. Queen Albina was presented with the beautiful diamond ring which was the prize for her success in winning the contest for ruler of the carnival. Speech making and prize dancing held the big crowd until a late hour and the concessions also furnished diversion for the crowd.

Sunday a large crowd of sightseers witnessed the athletic games

Family Narrowly Escapes

Car Driven by Mrs. Harry Quartaroli Struck by Another Machine and Occupants Thrown Out.

Sunday afternoon a car driven by Mrs. Harry Quartaroli and containing her two children and her mother, Mrs. Eraldi, was struck by a machine belonging to Peter Fagioli of Petaluma, at the intersection of First Street West and Spain Street. Fagioli was coming from a visit to the old Mission and did not see Mrs. Quartaroli, who was driving south on First Street West. Fagioli ran into the Quartaroli car, the impact throwing the occupants to the street. Mrs. Eraldi suffered a badly bruised rib and a number of contusions and Harry Quartaroli, Jr., was also painfully hurt. The other two escaped with no more than a bad shaking up. Dr. W. B. Hays attended Mrs. Eraldi

Fagioli was summoned to appear before Judge Small, charged with reckless driving. He plead guilty and a suspended sentence was imposed. He promised to make good all damages.

AN UNJUSTIFIED RAID

One day last week Sheriff Boyes, accompanied by his Sonoma deputy, the constable and a chauffeur, made their way to a little ranch near Glen Ellen, of which G. Allemanno is the lessee, and although the man, a quiet, unobtrusive citizen, was hardly settled in what he thought was to be a haven of peace and quietitude, his premises were summarily entered by the officers and Allemanno was informed that his home was to be searched. He was told by Deputy Sheriff Ryan that the officers had a search warrant but the document was not shown him and Allemanno did not demand that it be shown him. On the contrary, he invited the law enforcement squad to make a complete survey of the premises, which they proceeded to do.

His modest cabin, with its sparse furnishings, his own sleeping room where the picture of his old mother in Italy is his most cherished possession, the basement with the wood he had industriously chopped and piled away, the barn with his rabbits, the chicken houses where baby chicks instinctively ran to their mothers for protection, the dog house sans the faithful friend who is yet to come, the well and every nook and cranny of the man's home was combed for booze or a phantom still which failed to come to light. The officers, after looking further along the creek and among the trees for a possible cache, departed.

No record of this search warrant, which is said to have been one of the many of the John Doe variety carried around by the local enforcement officers, appeared in the court docket and considering the lack of any real grounds for suspecting Allemanno of being engaged in any illicit business or having any illegal liquor on his premises, this raid is conceded to be one of the most high-handed and unjustified which has come to light in Sonoma Valley.

Sheriff Boyes declares he was told by his Sonoma deputy that a complaint had been made which led to the investigation. The complaint is said to have been that a still was in operation on the ranch, but inasmuch as the ink was hardly dry on the lease and the lessee was scarcely settled in his home, circumstances known to the deputy sheriff, the raid was evidently far-fetched and raises the question whether, under the Wright Act, a man's home can be summarily entered with so little justification or whether the officers are becoming overly zealous.

A KIND ACT

Messrs Tomasi and B Mori of Sonoma collected $178.85 to Scarpa Bismark, 76 years old who was incapacitated for work and sent him back to his native land, Parma, Italy. He went to join a brother in the old country.

CUSTOMER'S BOOZE ALMOST CAUSES UNJUST ARREST

Deputy Sheriff Raids Well Known Resort and Finds Nothing But Bottle With No Owner.

Last Saturday night Deputy Sheriffs Ryan and Eberhardt descended upon a well known Caliente cafe, but before they could effect an entrance their presence was tipped off and when they did get inside, the place was as dry as the Sahara desert on a summer's day. There was not even the breath of suspicion, although business seemed good and patrons were unperturbed by the presence of the raiders. Ryan suspected that a lookout had warned the proprietor and guests of the officers' approach and was about to depart without any evidence of illegal possession when he suddenly came upon a bottle of Scotch whisky jauntily leaning against the building on the outside. He pounced on the evidence and re-entering the resort confronted the proprietor with the bottle, remarking that he had the "goods on him" after all. The owner disclaimed the brand, the bottle or any knowledge of it. Hot words followed and the officer was about to make the pinch when a Santa Rosa visitor put in a claim voucher for the Haig or whatever it was, and declared he had left it outside when he entered the soft drink emporium.

Deputy Sheriff Ryan was not inclined to take his word, believing he was trying to protect the proprietor, when enter the hero, "Razor Pete," who with true sportsmanship quality came to the rescue by declaring he saw the Santa Rosan plant the booze outside as he went in. Pete, who was in the deputy sheriff's car, furnished the alibi which saved the Beau Brummel of Caliente's great white way from a seance before Judge Small and a probable fine of $300.

The raid blew up.

EL VERANO NEWS

By ARCHIBALD McKIVER

Milton Peterson and Emmet Danieli were taking observations in Petaluma town Sunday.

Mrs. J. P. Court of San Francisco was visiting at her Sonoma Vista home Sunday.

W. and E. Wyatt packed up their trunks Sunday and departed for the Mare Island navy yard to build ships for Uncle Sam's navy.

Jake Saliba, famous for his Valley of the Moon cigars, was a passenger for Crockett Monday, where he is head of a cigar factory.

Mrs. R. Poppe of Sonoma was a Sonoma visitor at Sacramento Monday morning.

Mrs. M. Reynolds of Oakland is spending several days at her Sonoma Valley home.

The ball game Sunday at Boyes Springs drew a large crowd of fans and fannies. The opposing team, of the American Can Company, was made up of some good players. Pete Boccoli, Boyes Springs twirler, was on the mound, and his fine control and wonderful curves bothered the opposing batters. At the end of the ninth inning the score board read 5 to 3 in favor of Boyes Springs. Boccoli allowed only three scratch hits during the game.

The S. P. Company, under the supervision of Section Foreman Doktor of Schellville, is plowing along the right of way in order to prevent fire on company property during the summer months.

An airplane, landing in the heart of El Verano last Sunday, created some excitement among the natives. The sky pilot flew up from San Francisco in 30 minutes. A large crowd of the curious ones inspected the large air craft.

The Boyes Springs carnival parade headed by Mayor Minges and Deputy Sheriff Ryan and including the Carnival Queen and her maids, and many gaily decorated autos, invaded this town last Saturday. The Petaluma brass band played several selections for the cheering crowd which welcomed the parade. On account of illness in San Francisco, our mayor, John Quadrio, was unable to be present. The carnival at Boyes Springs was enjoyed Sunday by a large crowd who came from all parts to join in the merry making. All credit is due to the popular leader of the Boyes Springs fire department for the success of the celebration. Hats off to the Chief.

The evening passenger train crew is considerably bothered by the young natives of our village hopping on the rear coach as the train pulls out of El Verano. Each evening from 10 to 12 of these youngsters hop on, in a manner which is nerve racking to onlookers. If the parents of these boys do not put a stop to this practice, the county coroner will be busy identifying the remains, for if it continues there is little doubt but that some of these student train hoppers will land under the wheels.

Captain Muldowney, retired San Francisco fire department veteran, is here from Alameda and complains of being under the weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jensen were week end visitors from San Francisco in El Verano. They also took in the carnival at Boyes Springs.

El Verano, beginning about May 15 will have a first class meat market. Beck and Brazil of Petaluma will open up in the old shop where Paulson & Vincent engaged in the meat business before moving to Sonoma. Both young men are wide awake and are old hands at the trade and El Verano which has been meatless for some time, will welcome the new market which will no doubt tbe well patronized. The shop is being remodeled and painted.

Walter Paulson, Sonoma butcher; Jim Lawrence, the tire doctor, and E. Fiege grabbed the Santa Rosa limited Sunday morning on a fishing excursion to Napa bridge. Paulson and Lawrence are veterans at the fishing game, taking along Mr. Fiege as a student, to teach his the inside secret of the late Isaac Walton. The boys got one bass each and remembered the writer with a nice cut. They also got a number of catfish. These fish were so hungry, the boys claim, that they jumped into the boat and snatched the bait right out of their hands. They state their new student will soon be highly proficient. Their old Ford car, which was parked near the S. P. depot, was loaded down with the finny beauties, and whisked away to Sonoma shortly after their arrival in El Verano Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Riser have sold to Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Kalen, Lot 29, Block 36, in El Verano. Rumor has it that a summer home will be built shortly by the Kalens. Mrs. Kalen was formerly Miss Ruth Riser, pretty El Verano girl, who now resides in Oakland.

Mrs. A. B. Johnstone was a Sunday San Francisco visitor at the Minkel home here.

Miss Doris Nonella, who recently was dangerously ill in San Francisco is at her home recuperating. She is reported as improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. W. McAuley will soon vacate their Sonoma Valley home for the summer and go to Dunsmuir, where Mr. McAuley is an S. P. engineer.

Mrs. A. W. Weaver and daughter, Miss Beth, have been visiting bay city friends.

John Vincent, pioneer El Verano butcher, is here fro mSan Francisco renewing acquaintances.

The Caliente Villa at Agua Caliente has changed hands, a San Francisco party having traded an apartment house in that city to A. Nevraumont for his Sonoma Valley property.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bayoul of San Francisco were visitors here Sunday and were making arrangements to return shortly to reside in El Verano.

Frank Denny, Oakland boxer, was in town Sunday.

Claude Lombard and wife were Sonoma Valley motor visitors over Sunday. Claude says our esteemed friend Nib Maffei, who was also on the highway Sunday, would make a good hearse driver. They had a little speed contest on the highway, but Maffei failed to keep up with Claude's speed burner.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lynch were visitors in El Verano Sunday, motoring up from Richmond.

J. Signorelli leaves for his old home in Italy about May 15, to visit his folks. It has been 20 years since he left the old country and he will spend some time renewing boyhood acquaintances before returning to Sonoma Valley. Signorelli is the owner of a large vineyard here. His friends wish him a happy voyage and a safe return.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nufer, accompanied by friends from Oakland, motored to Sonoma Valley Sunday. Mr. Nufer has been laid up for some time with an injured leg, but is now able to be around. The Nufers have been coming to El Verano for many years and their many friends were glad to see them again.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Zampa were Sonoma Valley visitors from Alameda on Sunday.

Road Master Corrigan, formerly on this division but now on the Santa Rosa branch of the N. W. P., accompanied by his wife, passed through here on the Santa Rosa limited. During his reign as an official in these parts Mr. Corrigan made many friends who were glad to see him looking so well and to learn that he is prospering in Santa Rosa.

L. Boissonneau, El Verano's crack shoe doctor, who was never known to lose a case, boarded the local Saturday morning for a sight seeing and business trip to the bay cities.

The dreams of George Cavaglia, Sonoma's leading Beau Brummel, were badly shattered last week in San Francisco when Kid Lee of Sonoma stepped out before Spider Kelly, Irish white hope, took a look at his bulk and fell to the floor in a faint. Cavaglia and Lee, the latter a colored boy, immediately beat it back to the wilds of Sonoma county and George's vision of managing a champion has vanished. It is rumored he will again enter the soft drink business in Sonoma Valley.

STATISTICS SHOW PEOPLE LIKE CALIFORNIA LETTUCE

Since 1916 the lettuce crop of California has increased over 144 per cent and in 1922 people liked our lettuce sufficiently to consume 9872 carloads. Of this enormous amount, Imperial Valley shipped about 46 per cent. By the end of the 1923 season which is about over, some 6000 carloads will have been shipped from the Imperial Valley.

That California lettuce growers are alive to the situation is evidenced by the proposed bill to establish new grades under which head lettuce must have a diameter of 10 inches to be entitled to the grade name. This means that the very best cultural and grading methods must be followed.

The California Agricultural Experiment Station hopes to meet demands for information on the best cultural practices in lettuce production. A correspondence course on vegetables is now being offered and Circular 160 takes up lettuce growing in California. The Division of Truck Crops of the University will be glad to supply information.

You Can Screen Out Summer Insect Pests

YOU CAN DESTROY the breeding places of Flies and Mosquitoes, as well as trap and kill many of them—and you ought to do so. But there will still be enough of these pestiferous insects left to make summer comfort out of the question if you don't screen them out of your home.

Flies and mosquitoes work in relays; flies by day and mosquitoes by night; and then there are the moths and other night flying insects. Your only protection from their assaults is screening of windows, doors and porches.

The annoyance caused by flies and mosquitoes is reason enough for screening them away from folks; but that is a trifle compared with the terrible losses in health and life they cause as carriers of disease.

You must screen early because a single last year's left-over female fly can populate a whole neighborhood. Mosquitoes are also prolific.

Better let us measure your windows for screens today; doors, too, of course. And you'll be wise to make a summer room of that porch by screening.

We are at your service and we'll do the job right; but remember, flies and mosquitoes start early in the Spring and work fast.

BERKELEY CLUB WOMEN VISIT SONOMA LANDMARK

A party of 30 Berkeley club women visited Sonoma Valley Friday of last week. The represented the Rockridge Club of Alameda county and are making pilgrimages to California landmarks.

After enjoying a picnic lunch at the Industrial Farm, they motored to the old Mission here and registered.

Mrs. W. E. Nevells, curator of the history and landmark section of the club, expressed great interest in the Sonoma Mission and enthused over the wonderful old cactus which was planted by the Mission fathers and has attained a great size. The club women advised that more attention be given this distinctive plant and that no rubbish should be dumped in the vicinity.

FORMER RESIDENT OF GLEN ELLEN DIES

Mrs. Mary Ellen Ferguson (nee Sullivan) a pioneer mother of the Glen Ellen section, died Sunday morning. Death come to her peacefully as if a child had dropped to sleep after play, and was a welcome release to her. For several years she had been in failing health and nothing that could be done availed to ward off death. Medical skill, change of climate and loving and tender care failed to accomplish the desire of her loved ones to prolong her life.

Mrs. Ferguson was a native of Glen Ellen but for 14 years had resided in Santa Rosa. For the past three weeks she had been critically ill, her condition having become aenemic and because of her weakness a blood transfusion was imposible. During her life time she was one of the pillars of the little Catholic church at Glen Ellen. She was devoted to the teachings of her Saviour,and strove in every way to emulate the example of the Nazarene and make the world better and brighter.

Death came to this good woman at the home of her daughter, Miss Gertrude Ferguson in Oakland.

Surviving the deceased are a devoted husband, Edward J. Ferguson, one son and four daughters. The son is James Ferguson, auditor for the Santa Rosa, Petaluma and Sausalito stage lines, and the daughters are Miss Gertrude Ferguson, Mrs. Milton Morris, Mrs. Neil Moore and Miss Eleanor Ferguson. She was the grandmother of Jane and Jack Moore and was aged 51 years at the time of her death.

Electricity is ordered and delivered instantly

It's ironing day.

The careful housewife estimates that she will need about 1,000 Watt Hours (1 Kilowatt Hour) of Electricity to keep her iron hot for two hours—long enough to do all her ironing.

She turns a switch and—instantly—her order for Electricity is placed and delivery commences. There is no waiting—no telephoning—no trip to the store. It is easier to order Electricity than almost anything else she uses.

Buying Electricity is so easy—so simple—that users often forget the satisfying convenience of this delivered-at-your-home service.

Western Naphthenic Crude
Best for Motor Oils

ZEROLENE, made from selected Western Naphthenic Base Crude, vacuum-distilled by our exclusive process, will increase your car's power and gasoline mileage by about 5% more than you can get when you use the average higher-priced oil.

In addition, your car will run from 25% to 50% farther before carbon-removing operations become necessary. Both these facts have been proved by repeated demonstrations in the laboratories of this Company and on the road.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost half as much. Consult our Correct Lubrication Chart to determine the right body of Zerolene for your car.

HOW THE WRIGHT ACT WORKS

After several months of observation on the workings of the Wright Act and local enforcement of prohibition the public should be able to form a fair opinion as to its merits or defects. Converts to the dry cause have not been made through local enforcement, to the contrary the close-up activities of officers engaged in the work of stamping out liquor has weakened the support to be expected in the enforcement of the law.

National prohibition enforcement by federal men has been bad enough in its ruthless trapping of people to break the law, system of espionage, search and seizure and in many instances, sheer brutality. The government was prone to condemn the tactics of agents of this type and attributed enforcement conditions, plainly flagrant, to the personnel of its booze squad, which was frequently shaken up with consequent dismissals and changes. The reign of terror, however, has continued, and the hope that the personal liberty and rights of our people would be better safeguarded and respected under a system of local enforcement has gone a-glimmering. Local communities have become hotbeds of spies, informants, stool pigeons and anonymous communicators who keep sheriff and deputies on the jump. Neighbors and friends are suspected, and officers become so over-zealous to do the bidding of trouble-makers that innocent people are now being subjected to the humiliation of search warrants and raids.

Only last week in Sonoma Valley, a sheriff's posse invaded the privacy of a little ranch near Glen Ellen where there was not an iota of evidence of law violation invaded the sanctity of an exemplary man's home; searched the ranch from stem to gudgeon and came away with a guilty conscience that they had made a mistake. This instance is probably typical of a lot going on in this and other localities, but is cited as a flagrant example of conditions as they actually prevail and prove that the judgment of local officers is being warped by the fanaticism which invariably attends prohibition.' Officers whose judgment and methods in other matters are sound and who exercise the greatest care in keeping within prescribed bounds of legal procedure, in the exercise of their duty, seemingly show little regard for form, procedure or requirements when they set out to make a record for law enforcement. The enforcement of all law is greatly to be commended and desired, but when it comes to forcing a particular law down the throats of people and it becomes an obsession which invites irregularity and disregard of rights guaranteed every American in the Constitution, it is time a halt were called. Search warrants should be more specific(there must be at least a reasonable belief that the law is being broken before private premises are invaded and there must be a court record of cases on which armed posses have been working whether or not such cases pan out good or fizzle.

The people of California have a right to exact and insist on clean-cut enforcement and there is no excuse for not having the law's requirements complied with by those in authority, even in prohibition, which is no better than any other law, although at the present time it seems to be first in the hearts of our officers whose great indoor sport is planning raids and executing them ad libitum.

MANY TO CELEBRATE WITH SONOMA

Remembering the splendid effort made by Sonoma and the expense incurred by the good people of that city in providing such a wonderful float for last year's Egg Day celebration in this city, the people of Petaluma are planning on returning the visit on the occasion of the great centennial celebration at Sonoma on July Fourth. "I am going to celebrate the Fourth at Sonoma," is heard constantly and if our people do as they say they will, many hundred Petalumans will celebrate at Sonoma this year. In fact, Petaluma is decidedly interested in the coming celebration, which promises to be a record breaker

Sonoma is well fitted for holding a monster event, owing to her great park in tthe center of the city, the many groves near by, the various resorts and the eating houses which are unusually numerous for a city of her size. It looks like all roads will lead to Sonoma for the Petaluma people on the Fourth.—Petaluma Argus.

Come on Petaluma, any and every day from June 30 to July 4th.

DEATH OF "REDWOOD" THOMPSON'S WIDOW

Mrs. Fredonia Thompson, widow of the late William A. Thompson, Glen Ellen, passed to her eternal rest on Sunday, aged 64 years. She was born in Arkansas in 1853, and had resided on the beautiful mountain ranch which was her home for 52 years. There she was laid to rest beside the husband who preceded her to the Great Beyond, and whose wish, like her own, was to be buried beneath the stately old redwood trees on the home place.

Several daughters and a son are left to mourn the passing of the beloved pioneer mother.

H. F. Bates had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Mrs. L. P. Freck of El Verano will entertain the White Shell Club in the near future.

BANKER—EX-POSTMASTER WAS IN TOWN THURSDAY

Chas. O. Dunbar of Santa Rosa, who is one of the officials of the Central Commercial and Savings Bank, was in town Thursday. Mr. Dunbar is now out of the Santa Rosa post office, his successor, J. Elmer Mobley having taken office this week.

Mrs. Silas Olin and little daughter who have been making their home in Southern California, came up on the steamer this week for a short visit with Sonoma relatives.

Mrs. Norah Ward, widow of the late Captain Ward, passed through Sonoma Tuesday enroute to Napa county. She has sold her place in Kenwood and plans a trip to Canada.

SONOMA PREPARING FOR BIG CELEBRATION

Turning back the pages of history and the portals of the past 100 years, peaceful, quaint and romantic Sonoma and the surrounding beauteous Valley is preparing for the Sonoma Centennial celebration, to be observed here in most brilliant style, from June 30 to July 4 inclusive. Probably no festival in all the West bears the traditions and historic accompaniment that will be attached to the approaching celebration.

In addition to commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the founding by the early Franciscan friars of Sonoma Mission, or, as it is historically recorded, Mission San Francisco de Solano, the most northerly of all California Missions, the centennial is to serve as a fitting and appropriate means of celebrating the seventy-seventh anniversary of July 4 1846, when the first American flag was raised on California soil in the town of Sonoma by a group of hardy California pioneers.

Already the citizens of Sonoma have entered into the spirit of the coming centennial, and as one man have commeced to don the Spanish raiment as worn in the days of 1823, while pretty girls are already emulating the smiling senorita of a century ago, when the followers of Junipero Serra first trod the fertile Valley of the Moon.

A committee of prominent merchants and citizens of Sonoma is at work on preparations for the big celebration, which will be formally opened with a Spanish ball. Five performances of the Mission Play of Sonoma, especially written for the centennial by Garnet Holme, who is to produce it during the week of the centennial celebration, will add to the color and pageantry of the occasion. Numerous other events are planned, including a barbecue and other functions typical of the days of early California before the gringos came.

J. F. Prestwood is general chairman of the committee preparing for the centennial, and Jack N. Reid is general director of the celebration. Great preparations are being made for the five days' festivities, which are expected to attract more than 100,000 people to Sonoma.

NOTICE

On and after June 2, 1923, the undersigned Sonoma banks will close at 12 o'clock noon on Saturdays instead of at 3 p. m., as heretofore.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The school is evidently not open to all visitors, for Friday when a serious minded old black dog trotted into the Spanish class to pick up what he could of the language or any thing else lying around, he was immediately shown the door. He left with such dignity as one could command in so humiliating a situation.

That conflicts do not always mean turmoil and agony of soul, we would instance the conflict that necessitated the abolishment of our ninth period penmanship class. The agony is postponed until another year.

Having completed their text, the main objectice of the stenography class for the remainder of the year will be speed and accuracy.

A boys' assembly was called the eighth period Friday to re-arrange the physical education schedule. Four baseball teams were selected to play for the rest of the year and to furnish material for the 1924 championship baseball team. A tennis team consisting of six boys was also selected.

In looking up data for a theme, one of the pupils of the English II class found that the first newspaper published north of the Sacramento River was printed in Sonoma.

Mr. Reid, director of the centennial celebration to be held in the early part of July, and Mr. Prestwood, accompanied by Mrs. Hotz and Mrs. Hollabaugh, both in Spanish costume, addressed the girls' student body on Thursday afternoon to interest them in Spanish costumes and t osuggest inexpensive ways of getting Spanish effects. Rose Arrieola, president of the girls' student body, appointed 10 girls to act as a costume and customs committee in the girls' part in the celebration. The girls seemed greatly interested in the prospect of posing as the vivid and graceful senorita of those early days. The prospect, too, of being chosen as one of the party to advertise the celebration in neighboring towns, was alluring.

Mr. Stenquist, as a 1924 model, figured attractively in the fashion show at the high school last Thursday afternoon.

The student assemblies will henceforth be held on Tuesday in the ninth, the activity and opportunity period, to avoid regular lesson and study periods.

As aresult of the financial returns from the Gypsy Rover, the student body has now fulfilled its pledge of $300 to the Board for stage equipment.

Fresh air, sunshine, good sport and picturesque language may be found on the baseball diamond after school.

SANTA ROSA FESTIVAL LOOKING FOR TRIPLETS

Is there a set of triplets in Sonoma county under 3 years of age?

If so there will probably be consternation at the headquarters of the baby show committee which will stage an exposition of the coming citizens of this county during the Luther Burbank Jubilee and Sonoma County Prune Festival to be held in Santa Rosa May 17 to 20, inclusive.

In announcing the different classes in which the babies may be entered nothing was said about triplets, so an observing citizen who noticed the discrepancy suggested that the entry of triplets would cause a lot of fun.

On Thursday, May 17, the awards will go to babes under one year; on Thursday, May 18, young America from the age of one to two years will be judged while Saturday, May 19 will be devoted to youngsters from two to three years of age. No child will be allowed to compete who is more than three years old.

The competition is open to every baby in Sonoma county. Entry blanks have been sent to every Chamber of Commerce in the county and may also be had by applying direct to the Baby Show Committee, care Chamber of Commerce, Santa Rosa.

But in the meantime, dig up those triplets.

EARLY CHERRIES BROUGHT GOOD PRICES

Sonoma Valley's early cherries have been bringing a fine price. Last week buyers from the San Francisco market came up to the Picetti ranch, picked what cherries were ripe on the trees and paid 34c per pound for them As there are about 34 of these cherries to the pound, the Sonoma Valley fruit brought 1c each. What grower wouldn't cheer up when cherries are ripe and can be sold at these prices. Sonoma Valley foothill land is well adapted to cherries which are successfully grown both in the eastern and upper parts of the valley. The cherry orchards of Lowell, Coops, Picetti and others on the Napa road are famous.

SONOMA PARK BAND WILL PLAY IN PLAZA

Tomorrow afternoon in the Sonoma Plaza, the newly organized Sonoma Park Band, directed by P. C. Meinhardt, will give a concert to which the public will be welcome.

The band numbers over 20 pieces and considering the short time the musicians have been playing in the organization, their music is excellent. It is hoped before long to have a band stand erected in the Plaza.

The following program will be the offering tomorrow at 2:00 p. m.

COUNTY CROP OF PRUNES WILL BE VERY LIGHT

The 1923 production of prunes throughout this section of the state will be very light, according to information from various sources, including both growers and buyers and others closely interested in the industry.

According to one informant, who has just completed a survey of the entire territory from Geyserville to Mark West and including all the variouus growing districts in the vicinity, the crop everywhere is short and does not compare favorably with the indications at this time last year.

In the course of the survey but one good crop was found, that being in the foothill section near Mark West.

Sharp frosts during March, the long dry spell and the hot north winds are the causes of the short crop.

A CHANCE FOR YOUNG MEN TO GO TO CAMP

There is still a chance for seven young men of Sonoma county, if they hurry, to get a month's vacation and training, free at Citizens' Military Train Camps next July and August. The War Department will conduct the camps at Del Monte and Fort Winfield Scott.

The quota allowed this county is 15, and already eight applicants have been tentatively accepted according to an announcement received from Colonel E. V. Smith, chief of staff, 91st Division, Presidio, San Francisco. Colonel Smith will command this year's camps and he declares that they afford an exceptional opportunity for young Californians to enjoy 30 days of sports training and diversions without expense to themselves. Camps are open to young men bettween the agss of 17 and 24 years.

Of the camps General Pershing says: "They develop the vigor and manliness of our youth and sharpen their mentality. They teach discipline and respect for constituted authority encourage initiative and give young men confidence in their abilities. They grow more patriotic, more aggressive and get the spirit of leadership."

Referring specifically to the camps Theodore Roosevelt said: "The military tent, where boys sleep side by side, will rank next to the public school among the great agents of democracy."

Sonoma county young men who want to attend this year's camps should rush their inquiries or applications to Colonel E. V. Smith, the chief of staff, 91st Division, Presidio, San Francisco.

Mrs. F. W. Dobbel was hostess to the Missionary Societies meeting on Tuesday of last week. About 35 ladies attended and listened to excellent talks and papers on missionary work. Mrs. R. Richardson sang two solos. Refreshments were enjoyed and the afternoon proved very pleasant and instructive.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthies and Mrs. Hannon of Petaluma, relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Cereghino, were visiting here recently.
